To Whom It May Concern,

Being a long retired Realtor I have a pretty good idea of when you find a Gem to work for you. That is what we found in Pat Williams.

My husband and I live out of state so finding an agent who was available and reachable was just one of the facets of our relationship with her.

She was always on top of things from our first conversation to the closing. From her first inspection of our former home she had a feeling of what it had meant to us. She looked beyond the obvious and saw the marketing possibilities for our particular property.

She went right to work marketing it to it's best advantage. She used many resources beside the MLS to reach a wide audience. Her marketing skills are superior!

We would and will recommend her to any family or friends who may need a Realtor.

She isn't a diamond in the rough, she is a 20 carat jewel!

We thank her for everything she did right along with the thoughtfulness and caring she showed throughout.

If you can't tell, we were truly impressed!

Sincerely,

Ray & Marilyn Kohlman
